Washington Reported to Have Cabled Home

WILSON MORE READY TO EXPORT ARMS

Otherwise There Is Little Change in the Mexican Situation

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—The indications to-day were that the American policy toward Mexico, which it was hoped the nations of the world generally would follow, still is hands off. The general interpretation of the situation was that the United States, by giving the foreign powers detailed information of its own determination to refuse to recognize the acts of the new Mexican Congress, had indicated its desire that the powers, but there has been a plain deal of dealing with the Huerta government.

So far as could be learned, no specific request had been made for support by the powers, but there has been a plain intimation. The Washington government believes the collapse of the Huerta regime is inevitable if foreign aid is withheld.

Secretary Bryan had a long conference with Senor Alcala, charge d'affaires of the Mexican embassy, during which it is understood he said the United States considered the election of congressmen equally as invalid as the voting for president and vice-president.

The secretary summoned the ministers from five Central American countries and outlined to them in general what had been done by the United States in its diplomatic parleys with the Huerta government. Later he announced that he also had been in communication with the diplomatic representatives of the European powers and had informed them in general of the steps taken by the United States thus far.

It was reported that some of these diplomats transmitted long despatches to their home governments yesterday describing the situation as approaching closer to a complete break in relations between the United States and Mexico than at any time since the Mexican problem became troublesome.

Exportation of Arms.
The question of exporting arms to Mexico has raised the point in official circles of whether the president by executive authority could let down the bars, or whether action by Congress would be necessary. The joint resolution of March 14, 1912, prohibited exportation of arms and munitions of war to countries in Central and South America where domestic violence exists with such exceptions as he deems expedient. These exceptions hitherto have been to a legally constituted government, President Taft making the exception in favor of the Madero administration at the time of the Orozco rebellion. It is now argued by some senators that it is necessary to permit exportations to any nation that would be a recognition of the legality of that side, while free exportation to all contenders would be ignoring the existence of a state of domestic violence and annul the spirit of the act.

Many persons have suggested to the president that a repeal of the joint resolution will be necessary if the United States finally decided to grant arms on an equality to the disputants. This has given rise to the belief that any such departure from the present policy of denial of arms would be preceded by a communication from President Wilson to Congress. The president told callers yesterday that he has no present intention of saying anything to Congress on the Mexican situation, that he was waiting rather, for things to take definite shape as a result of last week's diplomatic parleys before making any move.

Those who have discussed the arms question with the president in the last few days say he seems to be open-minded on that point, while a month ago he was firmly set against it. He is asking the advice of senators on that question and some of them have gotten the impression in their talks that he inclines somewhat toward the removal of the embargo, though there is no outward indication that he has reached a final decision.

GREAT CARE NEEDED.

Declared Asquith in Defining Great Britain's Attitude Toward Mexico.

London, Nov. 11.—The prime minister, H. H. Asquith, discussed the Mexican question in his annual speech at the lord mayor's banquet last night.

"Our interests in Mexico," said the prime minister, "call for vigilant care. Mexico is still in the throes of civil war, but there never was and never has been any question of political intervention by Great Britain in the domestic concerns of Mexico, or in the Central or South American states.

regarded the recognition of President Huerta no definite answer could be given except that they would wait some time longer before recognizing him.

No Change in Policy.

"Since then there has been no change in policy and no departure of any kind. The change of ministers to Mexico involved no change of policy. We have the right to assume that in whatever policy America adopts she will have regard for the legitimate commercial foreign interests in Mexico, as well as her own. There has been interchange of views with the most frankness and cordiality on both sides. Our diplomatic relations with the United States has been for a long time such that, with the frankness of discussion on all matters that might from time to time arise, we both feel the fullest assurance that nothing can happen to disturb our common resolve to attain and maintain a sympathetic understanding.

MEXICO BANKS SUFFER.

Runs by Depositors.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—The acute stage of Mexico's economic situation was manifested yesterday in a long-continued run on the banks and served to accentuate the fears of the Mexican people. This, combined with reports of military operations in different parts of the republic, appears to have distracted the public mind for the moment from the possible dangers in the strained relations with the United States.

Among the Mexican officials anxiety is well marked, however, those connected with the government confining to manifest compliance over future developments. At all the legations there is anxiety over the situation and among the better informed business classes.

The waiting policy has now been transferred to Mexico City as General Huerta considers that his note to the diplomatic representatives places the burden of future action on Washington. The run on the National bank and the bank of London and Mexico, which was begun Saturday, had not abated at the closing hours. The doors were locked at the usual time, but depositors within the building continued to march past the paying tellers until six o'clock. An accurate statement of the amounts withdrawn was impossible to procure, but the aggregate was large.

The government announced in the afternoon papers that it intended to order the immediate coinage of 50,000,000 pesos in 50-cent pieces, the coin recently made legal tender, but there is doubt if this amount can be put out in time to satisfy the public. The volume of silver currency in circulation in the capital was much larger than usual last week, and there is a tendency to hoard it as it was indicated by the fact that some of the stores were cashing paper only at a discount. At some stores the customer was asked if he had the exact change for the purchase and, if not, the sale was refused. The credit system inaugurated last week has not proved popular.

ASK FEDERAL AID FOR GOOD ROADS

United States Convention at St. Louis
—Major R. P. Johnson Was Present.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 11.—Federal aid for good road work was urged by Governor Major of Missouri and Senator Bankhead of Alabama, at the opening session of the United States good roads convention here yesterday. Senator Bankhead, the president of the association, spoke in response to an address of welcome by Governor Major.

Maj. Robert P. Johnson of Manchester, N. H., attended the convention as the representative of Gov. Samuel D. Felker of that state. He brought with him a roll of maps showing how automobile tourists may travel safely and comfortably through the state over improved highways.

Governors of 28 states were expected to attend the convention, but at the opening session, Mr. Major was the only governor present.

Mr. Major told the delegates that 1,300 miles of good roads could be built for the cost of one battle ship. Senator Bankhead urged that pressure for federal aid be brought on Congress, and said few senators would refuse to present the appeals of their own states for road appropriations.

MILLION DOLLAR SUIT ENDED.

In Which Mrs. Joseph A. Blake Sued
Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay.

New York, Nov. 11.—Announcement was made last night by Arthur G. Train, counsel for Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, that the action commenced in the supreme court by Mrs. Joseph A. Blake against Mrs. Mackay for $1,000,000 for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Dr. Joseph A. Blake, was discontinued yesterday.

At the time Mrs. Blake signed a consent to the discontinuance of this action, the announcement read, "she executed an instrument releasing Mrs. Mackay from all claims of every description and character. Not one cent has been paid or promised to Mrs. Blake, either by Mrs. Mackay or by any one acting for her, or in behalf for the discontinuance of the lawsuit or the execution of the consent."

Mr. Train refused to make any further comment on the discontinuance of the suit saying the statement was self-explanatory. George Gordon Battle, counsel for Mrs. Blake, said last night that he had absolutely nothing to say concerning the statement issued by Mr. Train.

Russell H. Landale, personal counsel for Mrs. Blake, and a member of Mr. Battle's firm, later declared that his client had received no monetary consideration and that none had been promised to her, thereby confirming the statement made by Mr. Train.

BIG VESSEL
BOTTOM UP

Believed to Indicate Loss of from 25 to 40 Lives in Lake Huron

SHIP CAPSIZED
IN BIG STORM

The Crew Probably Had No
Chance to Escape from Her

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 11.—No clue has yet been obtained to the identity of the 600-foot steel freighter which was overturned with probable loss of 25 to 40 lives during the storm which swept Lake Huron during the past two days. The fact that the vessel is bottom-swep up eight miles out in the storm-swept lake convinced mariners that the crew had practically no chance to escape.

The vessel was found late yesterday afternoon northeast of Port Huron. Captain Reid of the wrecking crew which located her reported that a heavy sea was running when the freighter was found and there was no distinguishing mark to identify her. Marine men think the boat may be an ore carrier which became uncontrollable in the storm and shifted her cargo. Captain Reid believes that all on board were lost.

Other Vessels in Trouble.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 11.—Because of a 50-mile gale on Lake Superior fear is expressed for the safety of the crew, numbering 28 men, aboard an unidentified steamer stranded on Gull rock, off Manitou Island.

The passenger steamer Huronic of the Northern Navigation Co. is stranded on Whitefish point and two steamers are reported ashore at Isle Royale and Copper Harbor. The watchman at the Portage lake United States ship canal reports that the steamer Simon Langell and two consorts left there Friday morning up-bound and have not been heard from.

Part of Ship Washed Ashore.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 11.—Big Day, 25 miles northwest of here, reports that the cabin and part of the upper works of the steamer L. C. Waldo of Detroit have washed ashore near that point. Nothing else concerning the possible fate of the ship is known there. The steamer reported from Calumet as being ashore at Manitou Island may be the Waldo.

SNOW BLOCKED TRAFFIC.

Western New York Had Very Severe Storm for November.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Western New York is emerging from one of the most severe November snowstorms on record. Beginning at dawn yesterday and continuing for over eight hours, a gale that at times reached a velocity of 74 miles an hour drove snow and sleet into drifts that blocked suburban electric railway lines and badly hampered the operation of trains on the steam roads. Shipping had received ample warning of the storm and so far as known no vessel was caught in Lake Erie. One railroad accident occurred, causing one death and the injury of eight persons.

The total snowfall was not great and when the storm subsided the work of restoring passenger and freight traffic moved rapidly. The storm was heaviest along the south shore of Lake Erie, particularly west of Cleveland and through eastbound passenger traffic was practically at a standstill from late Sunday night until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the first train arrived here over the Nickel Plate.

The wreck occurred on the Erie railroad, two miles east of Leroy. Rev. James A. Anderson of Nicholas, Tigua county, was killed. The injured include Miss Katherine Timmins of Batavia, the Misses Louise and Jennie Fugel, sisters of North Java and Mrs. J. D. McGinnis of Corning. Mr. Anderson formerly occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church at Leroy and was on his way to that town.

The direct cause of the accident is believed to have been a broken rail. Three cars of the train left the rails and tipped against the side of a cut in which the accident occurred. Mr. Anderson was thrown through a window, his body being caught between the coach and the side of the cut. None of the injured will die.

CHAMPLAIN BOATS WARY.

Did Not Venture Out Because of the Great Storm.

Burlington, Nov. 11.—Yesterday was one of the windiest days in the history of the city and the storm which raged havoc over the West and South evidently spent its force here. During the forenoon the wind traveled at a velocity of about 50 miles an hour and during the preceding night was as high at 60. The steamer Ticonderoga was held at Port Kent during the fiercest part of the gale and did not reach Burlington until after 12 o'clock. The mid-day trip to Plattsburgh was consequently cut out. The waves dashed over the breakwater throughout the day and the contractors who are doing the riprapping did not attempt work. Two gates in the yard of the Champlain Manufacturing Co. were blown off and other damage was done. It is not thought that any toys got into trouble on account of the rough weather, as most of them laid inside of harbors.

OLDEST N. H. CLERGYMAN.

Rev. Dr. Edward A. Renouf Died To-day at Keene.

Keene, N. H., Nov. 11.—Rev. Dr. Edward A. Renouf, rector emeritus of St. James' Episcopal church, the oldest clergyman in New Hampshire and next to the oldest alumnus of Harvard, died to-day, aged 96.

SEVERAL BUILDINGS UNROOFED.

Stowe Was Visited by a Very Strong
Wind for 48 Hours.

Stowe, Nov. 11.—A high wind, which prevailed here for 48 hours, resulted in a long list of minor damages to buildings. The tin roofing of F. E. Smith's house at Moscow was blown off. About a third of the roofing on C. F. Eddy's Mt. Mansfield creamery was blown off and some injury was done to the roof of A. E. Douglass' house. A shed at Miles & McMahony's new storehouse was blown over, after which L. B. Tomlinson's was blown down and a shed at G. S. Clayton's was blown against W. W. Adams' house. Telephone service was crippled, the lines to Morrisville and Waterbury being put out of commission as well as several local lines. An electric light pole near the ledges at the lower village was blown down, falling across the street. A large pine tree at N. B. Johnson's was blown off about eight feet above the ground.

ATTACK SOCIAL EVIL.

Burlington Authorities Are Prodded To Action By Dr. Aronovici.

Burlington, Nov. 11.—Sentences of not less than one year nor more than 14 months in the house of correction were given yesterday to Margaret Fitzgerald and Addie Everitt yesterday in city court for street walking. The girls all pleaded guilty to the charge, the arrests being made on warrants issued by State's Attorney Hopkins and the prosecution made under the common law.

The cases of Marjorie Cockran and Hazel Warren were continued until tomorrow, following their plea of not guilty. Heretofore, women suspected of being prostitutes have been prosecuted under the statutes of Vermont or under the city ordinances, but many were acquitted because of the lack of evidence. The prosecutions closely following the stirring up given by Dr. Carl Aronovici, who claimed that conditions regarding morality in this city were deplorable. The girls who were sentenced are all young, none of them being over 22 years of age.

SUFFRAGETTE BOMB
CREW AT WORK

$50,000 Building in Alexandria Park in Manchester, England, Was Badly
Wrecked Last Night.

London, Nov. 11.—Militant suffragette arson squads and bomb troops were at work in several parts of the British Isles last night, doing a large amount of damage. The cat's house in Alexandria park, Manchester, containing a collection valued at $50,000, was badly wrecked by a bomb. Begbrook, a fine mansion near Bristol, was gutted by the fire and the pavilion of the bowling and tennis club at Catford was also burned. Suffrage literature was left about in each instance.

John Callaghan Johnson was fined $5 and costs and being short of funds will serve the alternative sentence of 10 days in jail. William "Nick" Smith received a straight sentence of 30 days in jail for a second offense.

Crashed in Blinding Snowstorm.

The accident occurred in a blinding snowstorm. The dead are: William Moffat, conductor; George A. Hollenback, brakeman; Stapleton. All of the victims lived in this city.

A heavy Grand Trunk freight train became stalled at Wainstead and a short time later freight train No. 91, westbound, crashed into it. Engineer Burrell of No. 91, who was at first reported killed, was unhurt. The men who were killed were riding in the caboose of the stalled train.

DEPARTING PRIEST HONORED.

Rev. J. D. Shannon Given Reception at Middlebury.

Middlebury, Nov. 11.—Rev. J. D. Shannon, who left to-day for Bellows Falls, where he was transferred from St. Mary's church here, was given a farewell reception last evening at the town hall, which was well filled, not only by his own parishioners but by people of all denominations. Dr. P. L. Dorey acted as chairman. Remarks complimentary to Father Shannon and his work in Middlebury were made by Ira H. Ladue, Judge J. E. Weeks, Prof. A. W. Eddy, Prof. H. S. Harriman and Dr. E. H. Martin. Father Shannon was presented a substantial purse of money and he responded with a short speech of leave taking character. Dr. Dorey also presented Miss May Flynn, organist and choir director of St. Mary's, a gift from the parish.

NOT HELD RESPONSIBLE.

William A. Templeton Was Released at Newton, Mass.

Newton, Mass., Nov. 11.—Holding that the death of Miss Margaret F. Kenefic, who was killed Saturday by a bullet from a rifle in the hands of William A. Templeton, was an accident, Judge Kennedy of the district court discharged Templeton from custody yesterday. Templeton, although not charged with any offense, had been detained since the young woman's death.

After the shooting, Templeton said that he was examining the rifle when it was accidentally discharged.

DUMMER ACADEMY
BUILDING AFIRE

There Were Twenty Boys Asleep in Building When the Fire Broke Out

South Byfield, Mass., Nov. 11.—The members of the football squad and other students at Dummer academy turned fire-fighters this morning and prevented a fire, which started in "The Commons," from spreading to the other buildings. Twenty students who were asleep in the building made their way to safety through the smoke, and, marshalled by Prof. Charles S. Ingram, they formed a fire brigade.

With buckets and a small hose the volunteers worked with such good effect that by the time the regular apparatus arrived from Newburyport the flames were under control. The cause of the fire is not known.

$20,000 LOSS AT PEMBROKE, ME.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mrs. Eugene Hamblet of 189 North Main street was taken to the City hospital yesterday, where she was operated on to-day.

Mrs. Leontina Tonella, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Merlo of Granite street for the past few weeks returned to-day to her home at Milford, N. H.

The entertainment committee of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Heddington Methodist church is making extensive preparations for entertaining a large number of delegates at the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the state society, which opens in this city tomorrow afternoon. It is expected that nearly 150 home mission workers from every section of Vermont will be present for the opening session. They will be entertained in different homes around the city.

Ralph Garrett, who has been in charge of the field work of the Walker, Walker and Goodrich engineering firm, completed his duties last Saturday, after a service extending over a period of seven years. Yesterday he assumed the duties of civil engineer with the Tenney service, with headquarters at Montpelier. During his service with the Walker company Mr. Garrett has gained a good reputation among Vermont engineers and enters his new position admirably fitted to carry on the work.

A Northampton, Mass., newspaper has the following about a former Barre man, which will be of interest to his many friends here: "Dr. A. H. Daniels, who was severely injured Saturday evening when his auto collided with a horse on the Hadley road, was taken to the Dickinson hospital and operated upon this morning by Dr. Frank Dow, oculist, who attended him the night of the accident. It was found necessary to remove the right eye which was severely cut. The left eye was treated and Dr. Dow feels confident that the injured man will regain the full sight of the remaining eye. He is recovering comfortably following the operation."

A 40-70 bullet was found in the grammar room at the Trow hill school yesterday, when the teacher, F. S. Kent, arrived to take up his duties for the day. It had crashed through a window and struck the slate blackboard on the opposite side of the room. The nose of the bullet was jammed against the floor and a chip from the slate told where it had struck the slab. Mr. Kent is of the opinion that it was a stray bullet, but hunters in the vicinity of Trow hill are warned to be more cautious in the discharge of firearms hereafter. Mr. Kent believes that someone would have been killed had school been in session, as the bullet traveled across the room at an angle right in line with the students' seats. The window was broken sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning.

With the football season on the wane, interest in Spaulding high school is turning to basketball and extensive preparations are being made for one of the fastest teams that ever represented the school. Soon after the Thanksgiving recess, the church street gymnasium will be opened for the winter, and Capt. Nelson Brown will have a squad out for practice at the first opportunity. Spaulding has a large list of likely looking candidates, and it is hoped to round a team into shape before Christmas. Manager Arthur Blackmore is arranging the schedule and this year Spaulding will meet such teams as Montpelier high school, Burlington and Stowe high schools, besides a number of other fast ones. It is hoped that the high school alumni may be able to put a team in the field that will make the "varsity" extend itself a little before Christmas. Stowe high school will play the first game in Barre on the evening of Jan. 6.

Weather Forecast.

Generally fair to-night and Wednesday; colder to-night; moderate westerly winds.

STOREKEEPER IS CHARGED

With Selling Cigarettes To Minor Boy,
Who Said His Brother Wanted Them.

The police are on the trail of illegal cigarette vendors and their first arrest for an alleged infraction of the minority rule came last night when Abraham Allen's wife was brought before Judge H. W. Scott in city court on a disclosure said to have been made by Leonard Morgan, aged 13, of Prospect street. Chief Sinclair caught a number of boys fooling with smoke in the freight yards Sunday afternoon. Morgan said he got the cigarettes from Abraham's wife at the time which the Allen's conduct in crossing on South Main street.

Officer H. A. Gamble arrested the woman on a complaint made by Grand Juror A. G. Fay. She pleaded not guilty and the case was continued. When the respondent claimed that she sold the cigarettes on a written order, it developed that young Morgan had signed his big brother's name to a note. Big Brother, as it transpired in court, had been in California these many months. The court held that cigarettes shouldn't be sold to a 13-year-old boy, even on an order. Mrs. Allen furnished bail.

This morning George Hiram came into court to answer to an intoxication charge. Judge Scott asked the man to let the court record the last section of his name. George Hiram admitted reluctantly that it was McCasco. He said he lived anywhere and everywhere, but generally gravitated toward Brookfield or Woodbury. He pleaded guilty to a first offense and paid a $5 fine and costs of $4.25. The man was argued at supper time last night by Chief Sinclair.

An intoxication case against William Morren of Kinney street, set for yesterday, was continued to Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Breach of peace cases of State vs. Harry Jeffords, John Kesson and James Kesson were set for to-day, but by pre-arrangement between the grand juror and counsel for the defendants they were put over until Friday.

TWO WOMEN TOOK POISON.

Neither of Them Will Die, Assistance
Being Prompt.

Boston, Nov. 11.—Two women of Lynn, one a wife and the other a widow, attempted suicide at almost the same time last night, within a few minutes' walk of each other.

Mrs. Elizabeth Koecker, 29 years old, of 116 Blossom street, drank a weak solution of carbolic acid while standing in a doorway in Central square. She struggled upstairs, where she was found unconscious by C. W. Lord. She was taken to the Lynn hospital, where it was found she was not dangerously poisoned.

She is able to speak only broken English, she explained that she had lived in Havre until a few weeks ago, but after a misunderstanding with her husband, went to Lynn to live with relatives.

Mrs. Alice C. Columbus, 26 years old, a widow and housekeeper for Henry Currier at 49 Smith street, swallowed corrosive sublimate tablets and collapsed on the kitchen floor. Roland Currier heard her moans, ran into the kitchen, seized a quart bottle of milk and forced the contents down Mrs. Columbus' throat.

The milk acted as an emetic, and by the time Mrs. Columbus reached the hospital she was beyond danger. She said that she was despondent because of her husband's death and because she feared she might not be able to support herself and her daughter, Cora, 11 years old.

WILL BE MUCH MISSED.

A. V. Taylor Was Well Liked in Plainfield.

Plainfield, Nov. 11.—The funeral of A. V. Taylor was held from his late home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The death of Mr. Taylor, at 81, removes from the town an old and respected resident and citizen. He was born on a large farm just over the Marshfield line in 1832 and lived there until 1865, when he bought and moved to the farm where he died. In 1892 he purchased and removed to the farm on the Barre road and was one of the large and successful daymen of this section until about 10 years ago, when he returned to the village farm, selling his larger one to Dana Davis of Vershire.

At this time his life was saddened by the death of Victoria Powers, his wife, but his niece, Mrs. Julia Powers Cummings of Randolph has since made her home with him and ministered to his needs, than whom an own daughter could have done no better.

Mr. Taylor never sought public favor, but was first constable of the town from 1873 to 1875, inclusive, and a lister in 1881 and 1882. He was a companionable neighbor and young people especially found favor with him and his merry story and hearty laugh will be missed by all who knew him.

WILL NOT STOP
BOND ISSUE

Judge Sheldon in Massachusetts
Supreme Court
So Decides

BULKELEY FACTION
AGAIN DEFEATED

Sought to Prevent Debenture Issue of $67,000,-
000 Bonds

Boston, Mass., Nov. 11.—Judge H. N. Sheldon of the Massachusetts supreme court to-day refused to issue an order restraining the New York, New Haven & Hartford from issuing its $67,000,000 debenture bonds, as was sought in a bill of equity of former Governor Bulkeley of Connecticut.

Gov. Bulkeley contended that the Massachusetts public service commission had exceeded its power in sanctioning the issue. The supreme court, however, said this and said that the issuance of the bonds would be extremely disastrous to the company as $40,000,000 is needed to pay off the floating debt by December 1.

DEATH OF ELDERLY WOMAN.

Mrs. Catherine Nelson Died Early This Morning, Aged 84.

Mrs. Catherine (Mearney) Nelson passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Brown, 7 Cliff street, early this morning, after an illness of nearly four months. In July she sustained a fall and since that time her condition had gradually declined. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Margaret Coveny of St. Johnsbury, two sons, M. W. Nelson and John Nelson of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Griffin, who lives on Barre street. There are 20 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren surviving.

Mrs. Nelson was born in County Clare, Ireland, in January, 1830, and therefore lived to the ripe old age of 84. She came to America at the age of 24 and her marriage to Michael Nelson was celebrated in 1854. Her death occurred 43 years ago. The deceased lived a long time in Canada and afterwards took up her residence in St. Johnsbury. She had made her home in Barre for 18 years. Mrs. Nelson was long a member of St. Monica's church.

Funeral services will be held at St. Monica's church early Thursday morning, the pastor, Rev. P. M. McKenna, officiating. The remains will be taken at 7:30 to St. Johnsbury, where the interment will be made. The family requests that flowers be omitted.

EXPECT TO TRACK DEER.

Light Snowfall Taken as Good Help By Hunters.

Charles Keyes, a resident of Orange and a hunter with years of experience, drove into town this morning with a handsome 200-pounder which he killed not far from his home near the heights yesterday. The carcass is exhibited at Tassie's market.
